

TULSA BIBLE CHURCH

To Whom It May Concern,

As ministry leaders responsible for oversight of our church's missions efforts, we receive many requests from potential ministry partners. Most of these gifted and passionate servants are wonderful people seeking to follow the calling they have felt from the Holy Spirit to see Christ proclaimed to lost people in order that Christ might be glorified. They are responding to Romans 10:14-15 and requesting that we come alongside them in their work.

Yet, we must also be wise stewards of the resources with which we have been entrusted and must often choose to lay aside some of the requests to receive while accepting others. We rely on the Holy Spirit's guidance, often through the counsel and recommendation of trusted colleagues, to aid us in choosing which partnerships to embrace and which to set aside. And so, I write to you today to offer my recommendation of one such potential partnership: Candy Surrett.

Candy has been a part of Tulsa Bible Church for many years and has requested that we be her sending church. We eagerly agreed. We have witnessed her passion, servants heart and desire to serve women in need. We have watched God do a great work in her heart and believe that her experience of growing up in South America uniquely prepares her for ministry among hurting women in Peru.

Both I and the Missions Committee endorse Candy as a sister in Christ and as a missionary. She is heavily engaged with serving women and families in crisis in Tulsa and has a significant vision for expanding that ministry in Lima, Peru.

Would you prayerfully consider whether you could financially partner with her? If you would like more information feel free to contact me or you can contact Candy directly. Her contact information is enclosed as well as further information about her ministry.

In His Service,

Paul Elliott
Pastor of Global Outreach
Tulsa Bible Church